FARMVILLE.

Girls and trunks, trunks and girls, have been the order of the day for the recent past and home sickness have been the most prevalent ailments of the community. This doesn't kill nor are the doctors connected tho' the symptoms are marked and the conditions distressing. In the meantime the town never was so bright in its social circles or as given to higher order of entertainments. Germans, recitations, plays at the opera-house receptions and card-parties have been contributing to the changing and interesting program and young hearts have been beating fast and young hopes beating high. It is hard to realize what the State Female Normal means to Farmville.

The session upon which the institution enters promises to be one of the most wonderful of all its brilliant history. In faculty, force and general equipment, it was never better furnished for effective work, and the student body was never so large, and some one has said, never so "good looking."

The outlook at Hampden-Sidney was never so bright. It is confidently expected that there will be 150 students in attendance and active preparations have been made to make the session memorable in the history of the venerable school. Private residences on the "Hill" are being converted into club rooms for the use of the young men, and one new club house is to be erected. President McAlister is to be congratulated on the splendid success which has crowned his efforts at reviving the fortunes of this second oldest institutions in the State.

Primings are coming in at a lively rate and selling for good prices.

Our cannery has been doing extraordinary work and growers of tomatoes have been reaping many returns on their work. The tomato was never better and the output and see the best appointed town in Virginia.

One of the handsomest compliments ever paid Farmville, I read recently in a private letter from an accomplished lady who spent last winter here. Though born in a distant state and reared under other conditions, during her short stay with us she fell so in love with the place and people that her heart turns this way with genuine homeing. And here is another compliment which as a citizen of the place I very much appreciate. Mrs Governor O'Ferrall and two daughters left Richmond in the early summer for the mountains and stopping over for the night have never gone further, being satisfied with this as a summer resort.

Our school workers have been rejoining in the cool days. Many of our school girls, however come from hard work at home and school work is a diversion.

The death of Mr. A. C. Garnett, of Buckingham, removes one of our old landmarks—another of the old school is gone. The last time I was at Curdsville I was entertained in his home and well do I recall the warmth of the hospitality and the typical Southside Virginia meal. Such homes will not long remain with us since those who gave them their charm are dying out of them.

The Methodist worshipped in their new lecture room for the first time last Sunday.

The "small boy and the chinquapin have met again, and there is joy in the air

Farmville has one representative at the Hampden-Sidney opening.

Parents complain of the cost of school books. No one but the parents know what it costs to send a child to school. They find fault with the frequent changes of text books, and this ought not to be—that is from a laymans standpoint Books may be improving and teachers and children should have the best books to work with, and your free schools should be free in fact as well as in name.

[The editor of this paper is unalterably opposed to any more changes in the books in the primary school.]

Mr. Hoge Cralle, a Prince Edward boy, who during the past 8 years has traveled the wide world over was last week in town shaking hands with relatives and friends and in love with everything and everybody he met with. He says that "Farmville is the best town in the world."

After an unusual quiet week our old friend Raiscull is lime-lighting again.

Lame Back.

This is an ailment for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has proven especially valuable. In almost every instance it affords prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Luke La Grange, of Orange, Mich., says of it: "After using a passter and other remedies for three weeks for a lame back, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and two applications effected a cure."

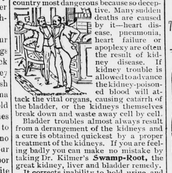
The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.



There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and relief is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

When any one hears of a good thing, I think it is well to let his neighbors know about it. I know of no better way than through your paper. It is Ripley's Ready Rheumatic Remedy. Uncle Tom Dowdy has tried it. It works like a charm, though his old woman thought he was going crazy but he reminded her of Nanan and the Jordan. Friend Mc tried it, when last seen he was not complaining. I tried it, but will have to repeat. When you retire turn your shoes bottom up. That's all—no nauseating medicine, no burning liniment —the four R's will do the work, so it is said.

You may look for a big law suit some day if that Buckingham fellow asses me about getting photos through the mail. He knows that photo fellow did not want to come over and be his neighbor. Circumstances alter cases, you know.

The harvest is past, summer is ended, what of its results.

Jamestown is on the brain nowadays. One young lady writes back home advises her brother not to miss it even if he has to do as she did—sell her old clothes.

Bro. Province closed his meeting at Bethel last night. Seven joined the church. The Second Sunday in August for the last sixty years or more, has been Bethel's time for protracted meeting service. We will still hold on to that time. Brethren, take due notice thereof, and let it be accordingly done.

The teachers and scholars are hustling for school. What a blessing to a community is heart and head education.

Mr. Thomas Swope, wife, son and three sisters, stopped a while to see old friends today. He is, and has been for some twenty-five years, living in Mississippi, near Columbus. He has made a success farming. Tom is a hustler, as were all the Swope boys. Nash and Willie were prime soldiers. John, Tom and Fayette were too young, or they would have been in. Seven in all. Where would you find seven more useful and industrious boys, not a drone or a drunkard in the bunch. I love to brag on our Buckingham boys. Cousin Hattie has three hard to beat—so good to mothers, you know.

I am reading a book by Dr. Shunson, "Perfect Manhood." It is highly recommended by earnest men. Some things he says are good. He says on page 95, that many of our laws are good, many weak and the penalty inadequate. Many of our officials owe their election to law-breakers, and are not in sympathy with law enforcement.

Election coming on. Boys, select the best. Glad for Judge Hall to have a fair field. He and Judge Mann will make a good team Mr. Strode, too, can be counted on for straight goods. Hurrah for Amherst.

Mr. Bryan will keep the White House occupant on or near the right track, whether President or no, the greatest of the great is he. I think a lot of our President. He is such an apt scholar of Mr. Bryan

Did you ever see such a pretty night as last Friday? What a nice courting time reminds me of one some forty years ago, when a certain young fellow got kicked, but he didn't stay so, the little lesson learned at school, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," applied it to all my courting affairs. I won out.

Davy Crockett's advice boys is good in most things, "Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

As a result of the compromise between the State of Virginia and the railway officials, the two cent passenger rate will go into effect October 1st, despite the pending injunction in the United States courts, and will remain in effect until the cases are finally decided in the highest tribunal of the land. The fact that the modified injunctions have not yet been signed by Judge Pritchard makes no difference, for the new rates will certainly be come effective on the date mentioned. The reduction, of course, applies only to intrastate business, as the Commission has no jurisdic ion over interstate traffic.

Death of Winfree J. Price.

On Sunday morning, September 15th, at 10:40 o'clock, Winfree J. Price, the 23 year old son of Mr E. S. Hughes, and her last child, died after six months suffering from the agonies of consumption in the worst stage. He had been working with J. H. Steele's carpenter force on the Norfolk and Western Railroad, and contracted a deep cold. Consumption seems to have claimed him from then. Medical aid was served him to the best of knowledge, but in that awful disease medical and careful attention both proved fruitless. He gradually grew worse with exception of a few times, when at intervals he was able to walk around until a month previous to his death he was taken down in bed from whence he arose no more in life. The young man realized his condition at all times and despite the agonies he continually prepared to meet the death goal which so rapidly approached. About the middle of July he made a profession of religion, joined the Methodist church and was baptized by Rev. W. B. Jett. Before the birth of his dying hours he often quoted to his mother, "The time that knows no now shall soon know no more" and Sunday morning as he lay gently peeping o'er the brink of death he called his mother to his bedside and asked her to raise him up, which he had not done in quite a while, the grandma to his request and but a few moments she looked and he had calmly and gently passed away. He often requested his mother to pray that he might not choke to death in his violent coughing spells, and in answer he died easily and peacefully. On Monda, morning at 9 o'clock he was buried in the burying ground of Mr. B. B. Wilson, which place he picked out himself to be laid. While the body lies cold in death beneath the rugged earth, together with the earthly fault, the soul rests amid the scenes of happiness beyond the Silent River, where we voice the hillows as they roll in joy speaking "Peace be unto you."

Oh! Death rides on every passing breeze,
And lurks in every flower,
Each season hath its own disease,
Its peril every hour.

Bent Creek.

That grim monster death has been abroad in this vacinity since I last wrote for your paper and taken some loved ones to dwell above.

Last Sunday the entire community was shocked when the news spread that Mr. A. J. Wood was critically ill at the home of his parents. For the past few months he had been in W. Va. and had only returned home on the 11th inst. He had one of his ankles mashed and was on crutches, but looked fairly well and his ankle much improved On Saturday night he was taken ill and Dr. Watts was summoned and did all that medical aid could do but he remained dumb and on the evening of the 16th, he passed away. He was 47 years of age and had never married. He leaves an aged father and mother and three sisters to mourn his death. His remains were taken to Lynchburg for interment, on Tuesday. Several friens of the family went with them. His aged parents have the sympatuy of many friend.

Perhaps Appomattox county lost one of its wealthiest citizens when Mr. A. A. White passed away in Lynchburg. He had been sick for several weeks, but no one thought the end so near, until the telegram came announcing his death Saturday morning. His remains were taken to the White burying ground near Tower Hill, and interred at 5 o'clock on the evening of the 21st. The burial service was conducted by Mr. V. S. Reed, of the Y. M. C. A., Gladstone. Messrs T. J. Goodwin, W. D. Marks, W. W. Thornhill, John Spiggle, Willie Viar and R. L. Childress acted as pall bearers. His popularity was shown by the large crowd of friends who gathered to witness his burial. He was 75 years of age and had never been married. He leaves one nephew and three neices to mourn their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thornhill lost an infant last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lewellen and little son were the guests of Mrs Lewellen's father, Mr. Alonza Wells last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. N. L. Turner is staying with her parents.

Rumor has it that there is an escaped lunatic roaming the fields, namely, Charley Reynolds, colored. He was sent from his home more than a year ago.

If providence will permit there will be an all day meeting at Maple Grove next Sunday. Rev. J. J. Spencer will preach. He hopes to see and shake the hands of many of his old friends that day.

Mrs. Kirby Smith has been visiting in Lynchburg for several days.
